You have a couple of options. You can go to mpsupport.com and fill out the form on the contact page. Or, for fastest service, you can call their customer service number at +1 (800) 275-4180. Now that you know how to get in touch with us, what else would you like to know?

The introduction should be about 200-300 words long and should not simply copy or summarize information found in the post's body—it needs to introduce the post's topic and give readers an idea of what they'll find in the body of your work if they decide to continue reading it. 1. Make sure your post is relevant to the article category and the site's purpose. For example, if you're writing about Apple products, make sure your article is tagged with both "Apple" and "Mac." 2. Choose the most relevant post category. Don't just choose a category that has high page views; be sure that your chosen topic is related to the site's purpose, meaning that if your content serves a niche or specialized audience it may be more appropriate to choose a more specific topic than something broader like "Technology." 3. Make sure you include tags in every post. If you're not sure how to use tags, see the "How do I use tags?" page, which offers a summary of the most frequently asked questions. 4. Make sure you include an image or video in every post. It's extremely rare for someone to read your entire article without even skipping a line, so why not give them something they can look at while they read? 5. Don't include affiliate links in posts that are unrelated to your site's purpose or that don't provide helpful information—it will just draw attention away from your original message and turn readers off. 6. Review the post's grammar and spelling—as you can see, we've corrected a few instances in this article. We recommend using the WordPress "spellcheck" feature to ensure that your post's content is accurate before submitting it. 7. Your first time submitting on MPS, be sure to check your submissions for errors by clicking "check on file" right after you've saved your draft, before you submit it.

If you're having trouble getting your post approved, please review the article submission guidelines and make sure all of your information is accurate. If it's not, specify in your comment or e-mail what's wrong and give us some additional information about what makes the post acceptable: "We would like to change this word to _____ because we think of it as a far more common term. Do you mind pointing out where I had misspelled or misused it?"

1. Make sure your post is relevant to the category and the site's purpose.
